

Sustainability in Action

Our Commitment

Our commitment to sustainability has a long legacy and dates back to the introduction of the Green Earth® brand in 1990. Today, environmental responsibility is a company standard achieved through creation of products that deliver exceptional cleaning performance while protecting the environment and health of the communities we serve and that is bolstered by our many other green initiatives.

Sustainability

Fully Owned Subsidiary

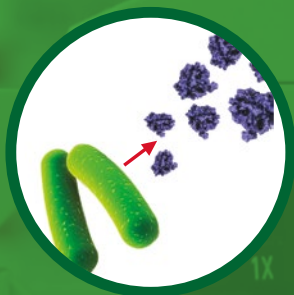

In 2010, Betco acquired Bio-Systems International — since renamed EnviroZyme® — a top provider of live bacterial cultures for a wide variety of bioaugmentation applications. This acquisition allowed us to take our investment into probiotic solutions one step further: Betco is the only manufacturer who ferments their own bacterial strains on-site.

Probiotic Technology

Betco is leading the industry in sustainable product development with microbial biotechnology. By uniting the power of probiotics with greener chemistries, we're developing next-generation alternatives to traditional cleaning chemicals that are better for the end user and the planet.

Ecofriendly Operations

- We minimize waste through efficient batching processes
- An advanced clean-out system squeegees out pipes between chemical production runs, saving fresh water and decreasing total solids in wastewater
- We use sophisticated pretreatment strategies to ensure wastewater is completely clear before discharging
- Closely managed HVAC systems, temperature control, and smart LED lighting allow our campus to operate at 99.9% power efficiency
- Recycling centers throughout our facility are coupled with programs to encourage all employees to recycle
- A specially engineered dust collection system prevents our facility from emitting dust into the environment

Where Clean Meets Green

Third-Party Certifications

Betco® pursues certifications from trusted organizations to provide independent confirmation that our products and their ingredients adhere to stringent sustainability and safety standards.

Performance Validation

Rigorous internal and external lab testing using ASTM evaluation methods has proven that our sustainable products perform equal to or better than conventional chemistries and equipment.

Packaging

Much of our packaging is made from recycled content or natural materials, and all packaging solutions are designed to decrease plastic and other waste, greenhouse gases, and total energy.

Transportation

Use of more compact solutions, especially liquid and solid ultra concentrates, facilitates more efficient transportation and reduction of related emissions due to lower shipping volume and weight.

Vendors

We carefully select our vendors based on their commitment to sustainable sourcing. This ensures that the materials and ingredients we use are obtained in ways that respect natural resources.

Natural Kraft Outer Cartons

Compared to bleached white, Betco's use of natural brown outer packaging has substantial environmental impact.

- 4% reduction in net energy (MM BTUs)
- 22% reduction in greenhouse gases
- 11% reduction in air pollutants
- 14% reduction in water pollutants

PCR Content

By changing to 30% post-consumer recycled (PCR) content in our quarts and gallons, we are reducing environmental impact.

- 30% lower virgin plastic use
- 25% fewer greenhouse gases
- 20% reduction in energy consumption
- Less demand for new plastic

Certifications & Programs

EPA DfE

The Design for the Environment (DfE) label helps consumers and purchasers find antimicrobial products, like disinfectants and sanitizers, that have been reviewed by EPA and found to meet both the pesticide registration requirements and the standard for DfE-certified products. These products contain ingredients that have been reviewed for both human health and environmental fate.

EPA SAFER CHOICE

Safer Choice helps identify products with safer chemical ingredients for human health and the environment. The EPA rigorously evaluates each product, ensuring reduced toxicity, minimal environmental impact, and effective pollution prevention. Products bearing this label are designed to perform effectively while meeting strict criteria for safer ingredients, supporting healthier ecosystems and communities.

ECOLOGO®*

ECOLOGO certifies products through rigorous scientific testing and third-party audits to ensure compliance with stringent environmental standards. These standards assess a product's lifecycle impact, including energy use, emissions, and resource conservation. ECOLOGO-certified products must demonstrate minimal ecological footprint and promote sustainable practices, offering consumers trustworthy options for environmentally responsible purchasing decisions.

GREEN SEAL®*

Green Seal certifies products and services that meet high standards for environmental sustainability and performance. Developed through a transparent, science-based process, these standards encompass criteria such as toxicity reduction, resource efficiency, and waste minimization. Certified products are thoroughly tested and verified, ensuring they provide safer, healthier, and more sustainable options for consumers and businesses.

USDA BIOPREFERRED®*

The USDA BioPreferred program recognizes products with verified biobased content, derived from renewable resources like plants and marine materials. These products must meet specific biobased content requirements, reducing dependence on petroleum-based materials and promoting sustainability. Certification involves independent testing to confirm biobased content, supporting environmentally responsible choices and fostering a renewable resource economy.

MAS CERTIFIED GREEN®*

MAS Certified Green ensures products meet strict standards for low volatile organic compound (VOC) emissions, contributing to healthier indoor air quality. Certified products undergo rigorous testing to verify minimal VOC emissions, helping reduce indoor air pollution and associated health risks. This certification promotes cleaner indoor environments by identifying products that support better air quality and overall environmental health.

SUPPORTS LEED CERTIFICATION

LEED®*

LEED certification recognizes products that contribute to sustainable building practices, specifically in the Green Cleaning category. Certified products meet criteria for reduced environmental impact, improved indoor air quality, and overall sustainability. Products must demonstrate compliance with rigorous standards, supporting LEED certification for buildings through reduced emissions and enhanced health benefits for occupants.

GREEN EARTH®

Green Earth product performance must meet or exceed traditional products as verified by third-party lab testing or testing designed and performed in Betco laboratories. These products must be safe for end users—including but not limited to acute and chronic toxicity, carcinogens, mutagens, and reproductive toxins—and better for the environment—including but not limited to biodegradability, VOC content, prohibited ingredients, and pH. Full criteria available upon request.

PROBIOTIC SOLUTIONS

Products contain Bacillus or enzymes specifically formulated to degrade targeted wastes and are non-caustic, non-acidic, and non-toxic, with organic ingredients and a natural end product. These renewable, biodegradable products are beneficial downstream for improved water treatment processes and prevent the buildup of fat, oil, and grease in facility plumbing and septic and sewer systems.

Bag-In-Box Packaging

Compared to plastic pails, bag-in-box packaging uses less plastic and resources.

- Reduces waste by 75%
- Reduces greenhouse gases by 52%
- Reduces energy by 81%
- Reduces total material weight by 10%
- Reduces pounds of material sent to landfill by 71%
